This website was last tested on 13/10/2021. The test was carried out by OneAdvanced Limited internally.

We tested a representative sample of pages from the staff and learner sections of the Assessment and Learning (bksb) website. (bksbLIVE2.co.uk similar to bksbLIVE2.com.au)

What this statement covers

The Assessment and Learning (bksb) website. (bksbLIVE2.co.uk)

This product's accessibility status

This website is partially compliant with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines version 2.2 AA standard, due to the non-compliances and exemptions listed below.

Non-compliance for Assessment and Learning (bksb)

The following elements are not currently at least WCAG compliant:

- Not all pages are navigable using only the keyboard.
<https://www.w3.org/WAI/WCAG22/Understanding/keyboard.html>.
Digital Literacy Assessment content only: Not fixed yet. To be fixed before the end of 8/27.
- The focus order is not logical on a number of Assessment and Learning (bksb) pages.
<https://www.w3.org/WAI/WCAG22/Understanding/focus-order.html>.
Digital Literacy Assessment only: Not fixed yet. To be fixed before the end of 8/27.

Content, other than the Digital Literacy Assessment, was developed using older, embedded software frameworks. While we are unable to make this specific legacy content fully compliant with the WCAG 2.2 AA standard, we are actively working to replace the current application with a brand-new application. This new application is being built from the ground up to meet and exceed WCAG 2.2 AA standards. We will publish a formal update on the replacement schedule when a definite launch date is confirmed.

- Resources. Transcripts are currently not all available.
<https://www.w3.org/WAI/WCAG22/Understanding/audio-only-and-video-only-prerecorded.html>
- Images on interactive content (assessments, resources) do not all have alt text specified.
<https://www.w3.org/WAI/WCAG22/Understanding/non-text-content.html>.

PDF and Word documents

- Decorative images on documents do not have alt text specified.
<https://www.w3.org/WAI/WCAG22/Understanding/non-text-content.html>. Not fixed yet.
- Documents have not been constructed with the correct heading structure.
<https://www.w3.org/WAI/WCAG22/Understanding/page-titled.html> Not fixed yet.
- Not all documents are navigable using only the keyboard.
<https://www.w3.org/WAI/WCAG22/Understanding/keyboard.html> Not fixed yet.

To be fixed before the end of 2/26.

Videos (Including a live demo)

- Help section. Built-in subtitles currently not available.

Imagery

It is not possible to ensure accessibility of specialised notations (maths, science) with current web technology. We will make changes to these areas when advances to technology are developed.

Some activities showing pictorial representations or diagrams cannot be made fully accessible. Where possible, alternative activities will be available upon request.

Custom themes and colours that can be changed by customers/users

Where the product allows for custom colour changes, OneAdvanced cannot be held responsible for any colours that have been changed by any customers/users where there is or could be an impact on the accessibility of the product. To guarantee at least an AA level of colour contrast, please ensure your colour scheme is the default theme of the product.

Accessibility at OneAdvanced

Throughout OneAdvanced we are working to ensure that all products are at least WCAG AA compliant. In some areas this may not be currently possible. However, where we do not currently have compliance, a plan to be compliant is in place.

We are always working on improving our accessibility, however at times we are limited by what technologies are available to us. These will be highlighted within this policy.

Notice any issues not listed or have feedback for us?

At OneAdvanced, we are committed to improving the accessibility of our products for our customers. While our testing is conducted to the best of our ability, we cannot guarantee that every possible issue has been identified. If you notice any accessibility issues within any of our products, please inform us by emailing accessibility@oneadvanced.com and including the issue reported, the product/site you found it on, and where.
