- Forbearance
- Delinquency

TERMINOLOGY

Consolidation - If you have multiple student loans you may be able to combine them into one loan with a fixed interest rate based on the average of the interest rates on the loans being consolidated.

Default - If you are delinquent on your student loan payment for 90 days or more, your loan servicer will report the delinquency to the three major national credit bureaus. If you continue to be delinquent, your loan can risk going into default. Don't ignore your student loan payments—defaulting on your loan can have serious consequences.

Deferment - A deferment is a temporary postponement of payment on a loan that is allowed under certain conditions. Generally Direct Subsidized Loans do not accrue interest. All other federal student loans that are deferred will continue to accrue interest.

TERMINOLOGY

Forbearance - A period of time when your monthly loan payments are temporarily stopped or reduced. Interest will continue to be charged on your loans. Be aware that unpaid interest may be capitalized (added to your loan principal balance) at the end of your forbearance period.

Delinquency - first day after you miss a student loan payment, your loan becomes past due, or delinquent. Your loan account remains delinquent until you repay the past due amount or make other arrangements, such as deferment or forbearance, or changing repayment plans.
