

Produce complete sentences when appropriate to task and situation.

All activities in Speaking and Listening standards provide opportunities for students to produce complete sentences. Look in other standards in the Speaking and Listening strand for specific activities.