V. APPROACHES TO LEARNING
STANDARD 9.1: CHILDREN DEMONSTRATE INITIATIVE, ENGAGEMENT, AND PERSISTENCE.
9.1.1 Make plans and decisions to actively engage in learning (e.g., two children greet each other as they arrive to school and decide that they will finish counting all the bottle caps they collected during choice time).	Social-emotional videos model positive, pro-social behaviors such as friendship, empathy, kindness, collaboration, courtesy, respect, and initiative.
9.1.2 Show curiosity and initiative by choosing to explore a variety of activities and experiences with a willingness to try new challenges (e.g., choosing harder and harder puzzles).	Families are provided information about social-emotional learning online at upstart.waterford.org under the Resources and Activities tab, as well as in the Waterford Upstart Activity Book.
9.1.3 Focus attention on tasks and experiences, despite interruptions or distractions (e.g., working hard on a drawing even when children nearby are playing a game).	Engaging activities throughout Waterford hold children’s attention as they concentrate on each task. Support provided within each activity can range from repeating instructions to offering encouragement and visual clues to step-by-step, follow-me instruction.
9.1.4 Show persistence when faced with challenging tasks and uncertainty, seeking and accepting help when appropriate (e.g., saying to a friend, “This is hard. Can you help me figure it out?”).	Children build persistence with Waterford’s consistent support and encouragement throughout each activity. The support can range from repeating instructions to offering encouragement and visual clues to step-by-step, follow-me instruction.
9.1.5 Bring a teacher-directed or self-initiated task, activity or project to completion (e.g., showing the teacher, “Look--I finished it all by myself!”).	When children need extra assistance to finish a task, Waterford helps build persistence by providing support that can range from repeating instructions to offering encouragement and visual clues to step-by-step, follow-me instruction.
