 Tables will change colour when they are open longer than the predefined time.

 The clock icon indicates the time that a table has not received a new order.

-  If the table has multiple courses you can specify what course the table is on. This is represented by the cloche icon. Note: The first number represents the current course, and the second number represents the total number of courses.

 'The receipt icon' indicates how many orders are active.

You can overview the orders by tapping fast on the table. You can get back to all the open tables by tapping on the arrow.

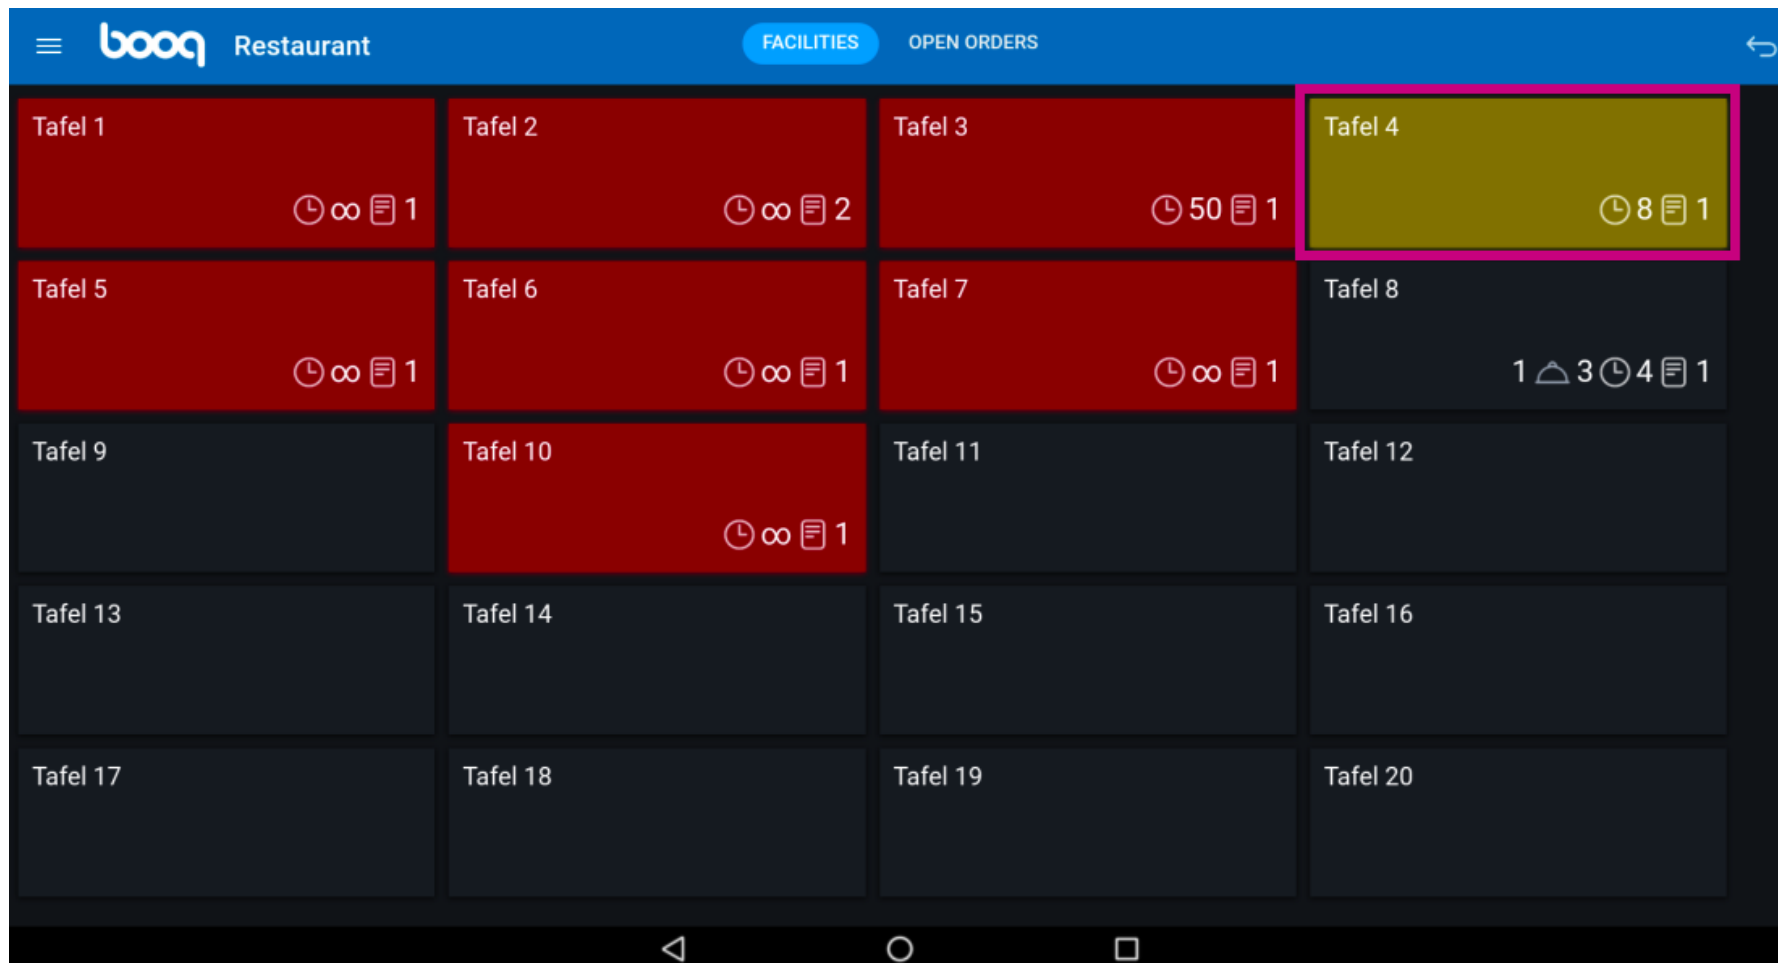

The screenshot displays the booq POS interface in 'Block view' mode. The top navigation bar is blue and contains the booq logo, 'Tafel 8', and buttons for 'DRINKS' and 'FOOD'. A red box highlights a back arrow icon in the top right corner. The main area shows a menu grid with categories like 'Hot Drinks', 'Special Coffees', 'Tap Beers', and 'Wines'. The bottom section contains a numeric keypad and buttons for 'Discount', 'Split order', 'Description', and 'Customers'.
